IRVINE--NOLTING.

Approaching Nuptials of a Prominent Virginia Couple.

Invitations are out announcing the marriage, on June the 11th, of Miss Roberta Nolting, of Richmond, Va., to Mr. Robt. T. Irvine, of Big Stone Gap, Va. Mr. Irvine was born and reared in Taylor county, and enjoys the good will and friendship of many good people in this entire section. In 1889 he located at Big Stone Gap, Va., and entered the practice of law with marked success. Aside from his chosen profession he became one of the leading Democratic politicians of southwest Virginia, representing that Senatorial district in the upper branch of the Virginia Legislature with credit to himself and honor to his party. Later he was the chosen candidate for Congressional honors, but it is not to be expected that he will be elected. He is a gentleman of parts of the country, and Mr. defeated. He is a gentleman of the highest, truest type, a lawyer whose ability and sterling qualities are known and appreciated throughout the State of his adoption. For the last few years Mr. Irvine has been active in the development of the great resources of that section, and in this, as in other undertakings, he has proven himself a power.

The intended bride is one of Richmond's accomplished and charming ladies well worthy the heart and hand of the gentle men of her choice.

In advance of this happy union The News extends its congratulations.

GOOD RECORD IN HOGS--A VALUABLE SOW.

On the first day of last June Mr. Robt. Tupperman of Cane Valley, sold seven hogs, 8 months old, that brought him $67 and on the following day nine hogs, seven months of age for $134.40 and now has 10 that will go on the June market that will weigh out from $50 to $100, all being the produce of one sow of common and mixed breeding. Admitting that the rates he now has will bring $100 on the first day of June the day on which they will go on the scales, it will be seen that Mr. Tupperman has realized $301.40 from the marketable produce from one sow in exactly one year. It takes good care, plenty of feed and high prices to accomplish such returns but all these have been in evidence.

DRY

Local Option in Metcalfe County Wins By 856 Majority

The recent election held in Metcalfe county to determine whether the sale of liquor should be permitted was one of usual interest in such instances but the majority came as a surprise to both sides. Only one precinct in the county gave a wet majority, it being Cleveland with 25. At Laferte, where the people have had to do with it, the vote stood 233 dry to 12 wet. Steadily the sale of strong drink is being narrowed down to smaller territory and within a few years more will still be greatly reduced. It was a good day for Metcalfe county.

A CITY FARMER BRANCHING OUT.

It was our pleasure, some weeks ago, to be shown over Mr. N. M. Tutt's large boundary of farming land, 3 miles east of Columbia on Sulphur creek, and to have the owner point out the changes to be made within the next few months, both in improvements in the way of fencing, clearing, building and land improvements, as well as the inauguration of new and practicable methods of making money without killing land. He has between 400 and 500 acres in the entire boundary varying in soil from the gravelly clay to the rich soil of Sulphur bottom. On the main farm Mr. E. B. Powell is in charge and is fast demonstrating his skill and showing the worth of his energies by the substantial methods of managing and working a large acreage. On a smaller place Mr. Charles Hammonds holds the reins and his work is showing well up with the emergencies. A good portion of the land is in grass and much more will be sown. But the main department is to come next winter and spring.

Mr. Tutt has his mind made and will enter the poultry business with an experienced man in charge, on one place having incubators and all the latest devices of producing fowls. On another place Mr. Hammonds will join him in the old fashioned way of production on a large scale. The most popular breeds will be purchased and in each instance will be the leading effort if not the only one to make a profitable business.

This venture will doubtless be watched with much interest and may prove the turning point in the efforts of many people in part of the country, if not the entire country, to increase their earnings.

GLORIOUS FOURTH--THE PROGRAMME.

July is coming and several towns have expressed themselves in having a celebration in full, in view of the events that made the 4th of July so dear to American history.

To the spirit of freedom and the love of country this day should be duly celebrated throughout the entire country.

As time moves on and population increases, the glorious forth, the birthday of the greatest and most progressive government the world has ever had, should be duly and truly celebrated. Who will take this proposition up? It needs only a leader and the programme would meet a most beauteous page from every true believer of American Independence. Some one with a little time to spare should start the ball rolling.

ANOTHER FREAK IN CAT LIVING.

Mr. C. H. Murrell reports a strange kind of a cat that came to his premises near a year ago. While not different from the average mouse in general makeup, yet in its association it mixes with the feathered tribe and seems to be on familiar terms with all old white Plymouth rock rooster. They are often seen playing together and are as companionable as if they were both chicks or kittens. They are often found wallowing in the wood dirt together and playing on the grass like lambs.

It is unexplainable, uncommon, but it is a fact, nevertheless, and can be seen at Mr. Murrell's residence any day the sunshines. If you disbelieve this statement, ask Mr. Murrell, he is of age and can speak for himself.

A GOOD TRACT OF TIMBER SOID.

Corbin & Rowe, of Sparkleville e., bought from N. M. Tutt, of Columbia, the merchantable timber on a tract of 321 acres of land in that vicinity, known as the John Blair land, for which they paid $4,000. This boundary has several hundred fine oaks which the purchasers will work into headings and staves. All the large trees will be used for the former, while the smaller oaks will be made into staves.

LARUE COUNTY FAIR.

The Larue County Fair Association has been formed and work will begin in the near future to build an amphitheater, stables and all necessary buildings for the successful holding of such an exhibition. A first-class track will be made and the prospectus for a large attendance and good exhibition of stock are flattering to those interested and to the people of Hodgenville.

BIG FISH CAUGHT.

Last Wednesday evening Mr. Carl Strange came into town with four of the largest catfish we have seen this season. One of them must have been near 24 inches in length, while the others were slightly shorter. They were caught by hooking, the bait being minnows and the pole an ordinary hook. In company with him was a gentleman with a fine reel, but no fish. The old fashion way is hard to beat.

Mr. G. B. Redman showed his appreciation of The News last Saturday by calling on us and leaving a couple of dollars to tide over the dull period now on.

COLUMBIA AGAINST CAMPBELLSVILLE.

Eleven to Nine, In Favor of The Visiting Team.

The game of base ball between the Columbians and Campbellsville teams, last Thursday, on the grounds of The Lindsay-Wilson, was one of the most interesting that has been played in Columbia this season. It was a contest in which both sides seemed confident of winning, before the game was called, but like all other events contingent upon calculations of the future, it had its surprises. At the close of the third inning the score stood 9 to 2 in favor of Columbians, but at that time the unexpected began to happen and it kept happening until the game was won by the visiting team, the score standing 11 to 9 in favor of Campbellsville.

Some bad and costly errors were made by some of the Columbians players which were readily grasped by their opponents and used to their full worth in scoring. The game had its usual lively features and the conduct toward all players well in the keeping of courteous treatment. While the Campbellsville team won the game and proved master in this the first contest, yet this does not foreshadow defeat in the next meeting.

The Columbia team failed to play up to its ability, made some bad errors, not usually made by any of its players, got outplayed and lost the victory. Mr. E. G. Atkins umpired the game and while he failed to please the most exacting on both sides, yet he decided, as we believe, in an honest, fearless manner and stood like the rock of Gibraltar on every decision regardless of clamor, criticism or ridicule. We trust that the two teams will meet again in the near future. The result as shown by the score card is given below, as follows:

GENIUS RECOGNIZED.

An Exhibition of Inventions Not Yet on The Market, At The Jamestown Exposition,

Norfolk, Va.—A most interesting feature of the Jamestown Exposition, on Hampton Roads, near Norfolk, Virginia, which opened April 26th, and will close November 30th, is the "Section for inventions", in which inventors are invited to display their inventions and demonstrate their value to visitors.

The invitation is open to all, and every facility is offered in the way of floor space, tables, and shelves, advertising cards and labels, electric currents, gas, lights, etc. A modest fee of ten cents to not more than thirty dollars except in very special cases, is charged for such space and service. The service includes, as well as the general care of models, explanations to visitors, and the return of the exhibit at the close of the Exposition.

Wards will be made of gold, silver, and bronze medals and diplomas. That inventors are alive to this unparalleled opportunity for making public their creations, is shown by the fact within four weeks after the first notices were sent out by the Bureau of Inventions of the Jamestown Exposition, applications had been made for more than five thousand square feet, and new applications are now coming at the rate of a hundred a day.

The inventors are not the only ones who will profit by this display, for the exhibition cannot fail to be of interest and material benefit to the public at large. Never before has such an opportunity been presented at any exposition, and now that the first step has been made in this direction, such exhibitions of inventions will no doubt become a part of all future expositions.

Rev. J. C. Cook, pastor of the Columbia Baptist Church, returned home Sunday night from The Southern Baptist Convention at Richmond. He reports an unusually large attendance and one of the most enthusiastic gatherings the church has ever had in this capacity. From Richmond he went to the Jamestown Exposition spending some time there viewing the great exhibition of products, naval and military displays. From Jamestown he took boat to Washington, D. C., where he spent a couple of days seeing the most interesting features of the Capital city. To sum the entire story, it was a most pleasant outing, one of interest in many respects and one worth many times its cost.

Miss Octavia Reed, whose efforts have been for many years to better the conditions of others and whose work has been highly appreciated by her denomination as a missionary laborer, has been at home in this city since the close of her school, in Manchester, some weeks ago. Miss Reed is one of the best I teachers in the state whose special fitness in various parts of the county is thoroughly recognized and appreciated. She has been connected with mountain schools, in this State, for several years and her study of the people and their environments are of great value to her as a teacher, of the underprivileged youngsters of that section. Miss Reed will be at home until school opens in September.

Mr. James Gadberry, known as Doctor Gadberry, whose home was near Gadberry, this County, died last Sunday, death being due to the infirmities of old age. He was 95 years of age and a respected citizen, who spent all his life in the community in which he died. His last sickness was of short duration being confined to his room only a few weeks. His wife died some years ago and his children are scattered, two of which reside in this County, being Mr. Jo Gadberry and Miss Bettie, the oldest daughter and youngest son.

Some time ago the announcement was made that the News would be made a six column paper in the near future, but owing to the unprecedent advances in everything that enters into the make up of a newspaper, we have decided to hold it at its present size and will continue to give more local news, in the same amount of space, than any other publication in this section of the state. There was no demand made by subscribers for an increase in size and we take it that they are satisfied with what they get. Our purpose was to better serve advertisers.

Last Friday Judge W. S. Jones lost his watch, and after searching nearly every place he had been that day failed to find it, but late in the evening he remembered crossing the branch that empties into Russell creek below the pine and thinking possibly it might be found there he proceeded to bathe the water, and in due time brought it to the surface. The watch had been under water more than twelve hours, but was still running undisturbed.

Mr. T. I. Smith, of Cane Valley, whose business house was closed last week by creditors, adjusted matters satisfactorily and resumed business. Mr. Smith is a man of much energy, but was unable to meet his obligations in the time to slow collections. His friend in this section will be glad to learn that he is still doing a good business at the same old stand and that he is given a fair chance to succeed again.

Mr. W. E. Hatchley, of Tenapee Flats, passed through Columbia last Thursday, in an up-to-date automobile. Mr. Hatchley purchased 3 machines in Peru, Ind., shipped two and took the other one through on the earth, going via Columbia, Ky., and Chattanooga, Tenn.

SENATOR GORIN

Gets His Leg Broken by a Saw Log Rolling on Him.

Senator S. T. Gorin, whose home is in Green county, met with a serious accident a few days ago. He was out assisting in making slab timber when a saw log rolled and he was caught under it, his leg being broken below the knee. Full particulars were not learned, but we are informed that the fracture is a serious one, especially so when Senator's age is taken into consideration—Larue County Herald.

Senator Gorin represents the district composed of Larue, Hart and Green counties and is a gentleman of the truest type, a faithful and able representative. He has many friends within the circulation of The News who will feel much interest in him and whose hopes are for his speedy recovery.

OBITUARY.

On the ninth day of May the spirit of Mrs. Martha J., wife, of Mr. Frank Burton, took its flight and went to the God who gave it. For several months Mrs. Burton was very feeble and nearing the end of life, she was confined to her room for four weeks. Her death was due to consumption. She was 31 years of age, a consistent member of the Baptist Church, at Purdy, and died in the full faith of going to a better world. Fourteen years ago she was united in marriage to Mr. Frank Burton and to them six children were born, all of whom survive. She was a devoted mother, a good wife and a genuine Christian lady. The deceased was a daughter of the late E. W. Burton, who was well and favorably known and recognized as a true, honest man and good citizen. In this death six children are without a good mother's advice and the husband a loving companion.

A CORRECTION.

In reporting the action of the County Medical Society in the issue a mistake was made. We call attention to the price of visits it appeared for each additional mile when it should have been 50 cents. All visits of 1 mile the fee is $1.00, and each additional mile 50 cents more.

CHANGE IN APPOINTMENTS.

Rev. J. F. Roach has regular appointments as follows: First Sunday in each month at Hardwick, second Sunday, Fry, third Sunday, Pierce Chapel, and fourth Sunday at Pink Ridge. Remember these dates.

Messrs. James Garnett, Sam Lewis, E. G. Adkins, Horace Jeffries, G. P. Smith and T. R. Stults, conferred the Master Mason's degree on Mr. O. W. McAllister, cashier of the Farmers Bank, at Cane Valley, last Saturday night. The above gentlemen responded to an invitation, from Tampa Lodge. All report an enjoyable time although it was somewhat a disagreeable night.

The marriage, of Miss Margaret Taylor and Mr. G. W. Thomas last Thursday, as heretofore announced, was consummated in one of the most impressive ceremonies, by Rev. Mr. Claycomb, that has been witnessed in this city for many months. Only a few intimate friends were invited. Immediately after the vows were taken the happy couple left for a bridal trip of a few days in Northern cities.

Last Monday Mrs. Wyatt Stapp, of near Gradyville, who had reached her 85th year, succumbed to the inevitable and passed on to her reward. Death was due to a complication of diseases and the feebleness of old age. She was a member of the Gradyville Baptist Church. Services were held at the residence on Tuesday by Rev. H. T. Jesse and the body laid to rest in the family burying ground.

The Louisville Daily Herald has advanced in price but you can still get it and the News one year for $2.25.

THE RUSSELL SPRINGS.

The Russell Springs is a flourishing town.

I will try to tell you how this came round.

It also stands as a business town, They sent for Uncle Sam, and he came down.

They shake Uncle Sam like shaking a tree,

And the money that falls is a sight to see.

It falls with power and but little noise, And gives a shower to all his boys.

Uncle Sam is a man who plays no pranks.

He helps them furnish the Russell Spring's bank.

He tells his boys what he will do.

And pays them up when ever 'tis due.

Four times a year he never does fail.

To send them a check throughout the mail.

Tom, Dick and Harry, and many of the rest.

With him every office and office man.

Uncle Sam a message greet.

They hardly stop a moment to think, Until they put it in Russell Spring's bank.

And then they constantly keep on hand.

A plenty of cash for any demand.

Oh how I wish I could have been.

One of his children, or some akin.

I would have gone to the Russell Springs,

Where I could enjoy so many things.

The beautiful Academy on Mill Street;

The Hatfield Brothers are hard to beat.

They are college taught and trained up right,

And teach their scholars to be polite,

Now I will tell you of the wonderful mill;

That runs over there at the foot of the hill.

It is run by a man that I hardly know,

I think his name is Mr. Jim Snow.

He's an honest man, and square in his deal.

He furnished them flour, and plenty of meal.

His flour is good and white you know,

How could it not be, when it's made by Snow.

He also stands very high in rank,

He furnishes them all a plenty of plank.

To build their dwellings and barns you know,

And this is all furnished by Mr. Jim Snow.

There is another man there that you may know sir.

He runs a store, the down town grocer.

A more honest man we seldom see,

I call his name Mr. Det Acree.

He sells many things both rich and rare,

And treats his customers fair and square.

He sells his goods for cash in hand,

But trade with him every time you can.

He runs no credit, you better bet,

Before you forget it, pay your "Det"

There is a good blacksmith near the center of town,

That can do any work that might come around.

He's a stout old man, and full of vim,

And shooes their horses in very good trim.

Most all kinds of work he does as well,

I call his name Mr. Al Isbell.

They need not suffer any human ill,

There's a good physician of wonderful skill.

He's very well posted and knows his lot,

He rides a fine horse that goes in a trot.

On Main street there are lots of stores,

And they sell goods by the scores.

A more business man cannot be found

Than the post master of Russell's town.

He's post master and merchant as well,

And keeps most kinds of goods to sell.

F. L. Wilson and Jolly clerk

From their business they do not shirk,

They are very kind and c'lever folks,

Always lively and full of jokes.

They are usually telling a funny tale

While selling their goods and attending the mail.

They are industrious and polite,

And you know.

And this is why they sell goods so.

But one of the most important things,

Is the mineral water at the Russell Springs.

Many years ago it was analyzed,

And by Physicians was highly prized. For the medical properties that it contained.

For the cure of disease and relief from pain.

There is the grand hotel that stands near by,

To accommodate people who might pass by.

Many people come from far away

To the grand hotel awhile to stay.

To drink the water that flows so free

From out beneath the high oak tree.

The beautiful oak that grows so high,

It's topmost branches almost touch the sky.

The beautiful gum with its glossy leaves,

Is one among the fairest of trees.

In the Summer time with the grass so green,

And all combined, is a beautiful scene.

There is part of my rhyme is a joke you know,

But you will find it mostly so.

Among so many other things,

I say Hurrah! for Russell Springs.

RICHARD B. FOLEY.

THE THOUSANDS of gallons of Green Seal Paint sold every year more attest its worthiness, as a paint for all practical purposes.—W. F. JEFFRIES & SONS.

PERMANENT NAVAL DISPLAY AT JAMESTOWN EXPOSITION.

(By George F. Vietz)

Norfolk, Va.—While not in so tremendous a scale as in the opening weeks the naval display at Jamestown will nevertheless be maintained in an adequate manner throughout the entire period of the Exposition.

The United States government has assigned three ships to duty right off the great pier during the seven months and these will be contantly open to the inspection of visitors. Considering that the most popular exhibit at the World's Fair at Chicago was an imitation battle-ship built on piles in the lake, the reality of the Jamestown squadron will be of the greatest interest to strangers from the interior. But this is by no means the limit of naval representation, the harbor of Hampton Roads, being a naval rendezvous, is seldom without several war vessels lying at anchor, and the ships of the United States navy are constantly arriving and leaving the harbor. The Navy Yard at Portsmouth, and the great ship-building plant at Newport News, are generally crowded with war craft under construction and undergoing repairs, so that no visitors need leave the section without having his curiosity fully satisfied concerning naval matters.

Some of the foreign fleets will not arrive until later in the summer, and an effort will be made to have this government extend a further invitation to the different naval powers to make Hampton Roads a stopping place for their individual cruising vessels during the period of the Exposition. This is a frequent occurrence in ordinary times and with proper representations to the different governments could be made a feature.

This to correct the impression that the dispersal of the present fleet signifies the ending of the naval display.

At no time during the entire period of the Jamestown Exposition will there be less than twenty-five war ships on the nearby waters for the instruction and entertainment of visitors.

Wonderful Eczema Cure.

"Our little boy had eczema for five years," writes N. A. Adams, Henrietta, Pa. "Two of our home doctors said the case was hopeless, his lungs being affected. We then employed other doctors, but no benefit resulted. By chance we read about Electric Bitters; bought a bottle and soon noticed improvement.

We continued this medicine until several bottles were used, when our boy was completely cured." Best of all blood medicines and body building health tonics. Guaranteed at T. E. Paul's drug store. 50c.

CARD OF THANKS.

I desire to return my thanks and appreciation to the many friends and neighbors who so kindly and patiently assisted me and my family during the sickness and death of my wife some weeks ago. FRANK BURTON.

Mr. Frank Burton sold his entire stock of general merchandise, at McGehee, to J. F. Neat, of Columbia. The invoice was made last week, and Mr. Neat is now serving the people of that community. One thing certain, he understands the business, and will doubtless enjoy a large trade.

The Cumberland County News makes the following report: "Twenty-five applicants presented themselves before the County Examining Board last Friday and Saturday. Out of the number three obtained first-class license; eight obtained second class; five obtained third-class and nine none. The highest grade was 95 3-11 made by R. L. Rounds, of this place." Mr. Rounds' parents live in Columbia and the fact that he received the highest grade of any of the teachers examined, and close up to the perfect points will be good news to them.

WED. MAY 29, 1907.

The reunion of Confederate soldiers, in Richmond, Va. next week, will doubtless be one of the greatest meetings the old veterans of the "Lost Cause" have ever had. The low rates, and the fact that the meeting will be in the Confederate Capital city, and within easy reach of the Jamestown Exposition, will cause many of the old battle scarred heroes to bid adieu to home folks, and once more join their comrades for a few days. It has been a long time since they trudged through that part of the country with hopes of victory and fears of defeat; it has been many years of hardships and toil since they stacked arms at Appomattox and returned to their homes to start life anew, but braver and truer men never espoused a cause nor never faced adverse circumstances with more determination. Yielding only to overpowering numbers, they never surrendered the independence within them, and bravely and heroically undertook to repair the devastated country that had so ruthlessly been overrun and destroyed by their common foe. How well they have succeeded, is familiar to the entire country, for to-day the "Sunny South" is still the proudest, gamest and most independent part of our land. The old soldiers, many of them, have long since gone to their eternal camping ground, many are yearly yielding to the inevitable, but still many remain to clasp each others hands in the once defiant Capital of their country. The sting of defeat has long since passed; the horrors of that war are brushed aside, but the love for comrades and respect for foe has steadily grown stronger as time has winged its way toward the shores of eternity. Then the young man in his teens is now the gray haired veteran; the Rebel then, but now the honored citizen. Once misunderstood and much abused, but now known and honored by the many who faced him in that terrible struggle. Richmond, situated on its many hills, has made marked improvements since it floated to the breezes of the Confederate flag and honored and protected the valiant Southern soldiers. What was lost then, is still lost to-day, and no where in all this country, could a more cordial welcome be given, and no place so appropriate for it to be extended. May the many who will be fortunate enough to gather around the old hearth-stone, as it were, for three days, share the full pleasures that come in reviewing the countless deeds of valor on the battlefields of long ago. May they renew their love for each other, extend good will toward those who faced them in the wilderness, in the Valley and at Appomattox.

The trial of Dr. Sarah Murphy, charged with the murder of Miss Katie Bryant, last year, resulted in her acquittal last week. From the reports given, such mockery of justice ought to be condemned by all upright people in this State, and ought to set aside forever the power of the Judge whose instructions prevented the jury from any other decision. There could scarcely be a doubt as to her guilt, and yet in the face of the fact that the evidence could not then be produced through the absence of leading witnesses, said to have been sent by defendant's attorneys beyond the jurisdiction of the court, the trial was permitted to proceed. It is a shame and a disgrace to that city, to this State; a travesty on justice, and a premium on criminal practice. This is the second or third time this woman has been charged with the heinous crime of murder, and been set free to continue the practice that destroys life to hide shame and disgrace. It was stated at the time it occurred, that the man in the case would be run down, but that failed to materialize, and now as the climax of the whole affair, after that beautiful young woman had been betrayed by a wretch, and murdered by a demon, that justice is defeated through disreputable practice of lawyers who hold the dollar higher, and of more value than the character of woman or life itself. It is high time the people of this country should look to the selection of none but competent, just officials, and the disbarment of such attorneys as will resort to dirty methods to defeat justice.

The decision of the court of Appeals last week, in the Louisville city election in 1905, was a bomb to the Democratic officials of that city. The decision sets aside the election on the ground of frauds. It is now a question whether the Governor will fill the vacancies by appointment, or the preceding officials take the reign of city government. At any rate the Fusion adherents won a victory, but too much fraud prevented the election of any one. The decision ought to be good and wholesome for Louisville, and a warning to other cities in the State. The time has come when the majority of the people want better political methods from both parties, and the fact is that they mean to have it.

The old woman, Mrs. Barbara Boss, of Louisville, who, it will be remembered, was charged with throwing gasoline on her aged husband last year, and igniting his clothing with a match, was tried for murder in the criminal court of Louisville last week, and acquitted. Just what it takes to constitute murder in Louisville is hard to determine.

The acquittal of Judge James Hargis, at Lexington, last week, came in the nature of a surprise to many in this part of the country. It is not our mission nor our purpose to say that he is guilty, but regardless of the verdict, a large part of the people still entertain the same opinion as heretofore. At any rate he is now legally clear.

The delegated Republican County Convention held in the court-house last Monday afternoon, after duly organizing by electing Judge W. W. Jones chairman and J. S. Stapp, secretary, got to business in short order. Evidence to control the convention and manipulate its instructions by the ardent supporters and believers in the national administration, composed chiefly of those who hold or have held positions in the Government service, was readily manifested, but met its Waterloo in the quick and keen foresight and action of those who have "no ax to grind." The resolutions adopted left no doubt as to which side won. The failure to endorse their representative, Hon. D. C. Edwards, to whom they owe their positions; the absence of instructions for A. E. Wilson for Governor and the startling omission to personally mention and applaud the hero of Santiago shows plainly that the Federal forces reckoned too soon or really failed to gauge the situation before the battle began. True it was only a little conflict, pleasant of course, but it has its bearing and shows that the old regulars are still a "pebble on the beach" and are not ready to give a deed of trust nor beat the march of retreat. Fifty delegates were named to cast the 17 votes, of Adair county in the state convention, and left free and untrammeled in every thing except they are directed to vote for Mr. J. S. Stapp for State Superintendent of public Instruction and to use all honorable means in this power to secure his nomination. Not a dissenting voice was raised against the endorsement of our townsmen and every delegate favored his nomination. Mr. Stapp is a Republican whose fidelity to party has never been questioned and at no time has he ever sulked or refused to work to the mid-night hour for its principles, its nominees and its policies. He has never held, and never before asked for an official position. His sacrifice for his party, his worth in its building, together with the appreciation of his ability secured for him the strong endorsement of his party associates in the county and means that they will go to the State Convention to do their utmost to secure his nomination.

THE EXAMINATION DIFFICULT--SEVERAL FAILURES.

The examination recently held by the Board of Examiners, contained many surprises. It was rather a severe test, so considered by many, especially so in Arithmetic. Mrs. Shelton, the County Superintendent, stated that the grades were good on all branches except arithmetic, and on this many fell below the grade that would entitle them to a certificate. She considers the requirements in this branch rather difficult and a little to exacting to require from those who seek to teach our public schools, especially where the time was so limited as to dispense with the entire examination inside of two days.

There were 44 applicants and the result is as follows: 4 received first-class certificates, 5 second class, 8 third and the remainder failed. A large per cent of the applicants were young, two thirds of them being only 18 years of age, and this, in a measure, atones for many failures. The Board, consists of the County Superintendent, Mrs. Shelton, Mr. A. H. Ballard, of Columbia, Mr. Hiram Conover, of Monticello. No one who knows them would have the shadow of a doubt as to their ability and their willingness and intense desire to give every applicant everything earned. So far as we know there is no complaints against the Board each one making the grades, some with glad hearts, some with a mixture of gladness and regrets and in humility.

Those who received first-class are as follows: Messrs. F. G. and M. R. Gilbert, Casey Creek, E. A. Strange, Glenfors, and J. F. Thurman, Breeding. The examination struck hard in many places, but the best showing we have seen, goes to the credit of Taylor county, while the worst is indicated in the returns of the Board in Green county. As we get it, Cumberland county with 24 applicants, had 11 failures; Adair with 44, has 27; Russell with 40, has 30; Green with 27, has 19; and Taylor with 48, has only 1.

It will be seen that 170 applied for certificates in the five counties and that 88 failed, being nearly 50 per cent, which should impress the many who received second and third grades as truly as those who failed, the importance of a more thorough preparation.

MRS. LULA WHEAT DEAD.

On last Wednesday, the 22nd, at her home in Gainesville, Texas, Mrs. Lula Wheat, wife of Mr. Mack Wheat, breathed her last, and her spirit went to the God who gave it. The immediate cause of death is not known here, but for a long time she has been in very delicate health. The deceased was formerly Miss Page. Her father, Mr. Charles Page, who lived and died in this town, several years ago, enjoyed the good will and acquaintance of as many people, probably, as any man in the County. The deceased is survived by a husband, Mr. Mack Wheat, a mother, Mrs. Ann Page and four brothers, Forrest, William, George and Joe and a sister, Miss Nellie, all of whom live in Texas. She was a member of the Christian church, and a most excellent Christian lady. She was a niece of Dr. J. N. Page and Mrs. Jo Coffey, of Columbia.

AN ENJOYABLE EVENING.

THE COURIER-JOURNAL BEAUTY CONTEST.

The Courier-Journal has doubts never introduced any proposition that has had so much interest, for the people of Kentucky, as the just closed and which determined the three prettiest women in Kentucky, so far as the judges could determine from photographs.

Miss Adele C. Torpey, of Louisville, was first, Miss Emily H. Stephens, same city, second and Miss Saline Smith, of Princeton, third. In the same issue containing the winners many other pictures of pretty Kentucky ladies appeared and in that number Miss Lina Rosenfeld and Mrs. A. R. Kasey, of this city.

We are informed that Prof. C. Frederick Ohlennacher has been re-employed as musical director in the M. & F. High School, of this city, to take charge January the 1st, 1908. Mr. Ohlennacher needs no introduction from us and no eulogies from any one in this community, for he is known and thoroughly appreciated by the many lovers of classical music in this section. As a teacher he has made a reputation rarely equaled by any one of his age. His devotion to his profession, his untiring and constant demands from his pupils have marked him as a doer and not a time killer. The rapid advancement of his pupils and the thoroughness of their work during his two terms here are sufficient to warrant the Board of Directors in again securing his services. From the date of the first to the first of January Prof. Ohlennacher will devote to rest and study of vocal and instrumental music and of his return will be much better fitted for the duties of his profession. The School is to be congratulated in again securing Mr. Ohlennacher as teacher and director of music. The Recital given his advanced pupils on last Tuesday evening, the 21st, has been highly complimented and beyond a doubt was one of the most classical entertainments ever given in this section of the State.

A DELIGHTFUL RECEPTION.

On Saturday evening Miss Alice Walker entertained a good number of the young people of Columbia at her beautiful home on Burkesville street. Music and refreshments were in evidence, and the occasion was one of much pleasure to all who were present. Misses Myrtle Myers, Mayme Mitchell, Annie Dixon, Kate Walker, Bess Rowe, Katie Murrell, Addie May Jones, Rooney Stults, Nina Marcum, Messrs. Tim Cravens, Ewing Stults, George Montgomery, Bruce Montgomery, John Lee Walker, Fred Hill, Alex Cheowing, Robert Dohoney, John Shelton.

BASE BALL ECHOES.

We met'm and we are theirs.

The Columbia team won in a hurry, but lost by the slow process.

Talk about pitchers, but the Campbellsville man only has four scalps to the Columbia man's 15. Stults gives them all kinds of curves and they go over the base like greased lightning.

There is nothing so good for rheumatism as a good game of base ball. If you have a doubt about this ask E. W. Reed, though the game last week had a rather depressing effect at the close.

The boys worked hard, but the result shows that The News is not a prophet, nor the son of a prophet.

Tim Cravens, first baseman, fixed in by the short hand process, although he had a serious miff.

Bob Dohoney worked to the liking of everybody except Campbellsville.

George Montgomery was cool and deliberate, as usual, and proved up to former work.

John Shelton worked like an old stayer, but he lost a ball at a critical moment.

Romie Judd never let a ball escape him while his brother, Tom, sawed wood and said nothing.

Mike Winfrey placed a beautiful rose in his ball crown by catching a ball with his left hand and going at a 2:20 gait.

Bobo, the catcher, had the enthusiasm but it was seriously hampered by an out ball when he had asked in, before the second inning was over. But all the same he played ball

Atkins, the umpire, stood by his decisions like a stone wall.

The Campbellsville boys played and they erred also, but they won.

FROM PANAMA.

James C. Sublett, Canal Policeman,
Writes of His Experience in Mamei in the Canal Zone.

MAMEI CANAL ZONE,
L. M. Parler, April 14, 1907.
Oberlin, Kans.

DEAR COL. PARLER.—Let me take up my promise to write to you right now. From Kansas to Panama—a change of course—from blizzards to blisters. The blighting frosts of January in Kansas to the deadly heat of the January sun on the Isthmus. I am sitting at the base of Mamei, (Maw May) the back of my head in the jungle, my feet cooling in the pleasant waters of the deadly Chagres river. The life and spirit of the zone is best seen on work days, when the dirt flies faster than any second hand earthquake could ever make it move. American energy is evident in every throb of the locomotive passing my official bungalow drawing sixteen car disposal trains fast as an express train home; no one mind can grasp, no one pencil write, no one man do justice in detail to this immense undertaking.

In this parallel of latitude men cannot give the daily result he would at home, but the steam and machinery in operation keeps the Yankee man moving, going, all in a sublime effort to "make good" on the Canal.

Panama to Colon 47 miles—this means canal through a mildly rugged country composed of hills innumerable, the base of hills being selected for the canal way, or in other words the way of the Chagres river as far as practicable. It winds, snaky twisty and twirly looking for a water way. The land and water produces a condition of fever and nervousness known only to climats peculiar. Some twenty-five thousand human beings are engaged on the work, representing men of many nations and races of men rarely brought together. Its a mixture of humanity, the sons of Ham predominating in number, laziness, filth, and the ignorance naturally goes along. Spaniards, Frenchmen, Scotch, English, Germans and Americans from the army of industry here. Railroad equipage for the work is good. Machinery of all kinds superior, and the white man willing to push the good work on.

Of society but little can be said, except the Senoritas and the watchful Señora are guarded against the wiles and blandishments of the Señor Americans, who I regret to say, are something of a Lothario in the Jungle land. Social festivals are handled coolly, owing to the great heat. The Ladies in lawn gowns, the cavaliers in linen, make bright pictures in assemblies of a social character, but the brawny son of toil, the fellow who does the work, looks better to me in his jeans than the bureau, of the pen-cil.

The black labor is of the poorest quality, of course. The white labor of Southern Europe now coming in is far superior but of course get better pay. These people are housed in good quarters and are fed abundantly and cleanly; better some say than in their native land.

There are a few churches here but they don't do much. Six days work here means rest and freedom for Sunday. Here is a land where death comes suddenly; but few are preparing to meet the call, yet they are more than good. There are old churches in Panama well worth a visit fortress like a combination of architecture seldom seen. The laws of the zone are administered in good American style. The police department to which yours truly adds luster is fully organized, and the territory is covered in good business like manner.

Hunting and fishing is excellent; the jungles filled with game large and small, and the rivers with fish, crocodiles, fever and such like. On top of Mamei night brings the howl of the mountain lion and the call of the young deer; the screech of the owl is substituted with the song of lizards, that in a sharp tone of voice says, "who be ye."

The blacks are the same happy, simple race, and sisters are the wonders of the world as wash ladies. They wash all soiled linen on the river bank and pound the fabric with stones to remove the evil. They succeed, but the linens suffers.

The general health is good, fever on the average, yellow fever reported only from Colon and but little of it; the fatal black fever is seldom reported. We have our per cent of railroad accidents, some fatal some slight. The grub here is good for this part of the world, it could be better and it has been worse. The banana, pineapple and orange is abundant and free to gather—with the thermometer at 110 in the shade the ice cream man is always welcome. This being the Sabbath all is dull but the warming thought of "Home, Home, Home."

Yours truly, JAMES C. SUBLITT,
1st. Class Police No. 60 Z.P.

FROM ARKANSAS.

May 21, 1907.

To The News:

The Mississippi is again a mighty creek, its waters extending for miles into Mississippi inundating thousands of acres of growing crops. At present the stream is stationary here but the tributaries are rising and there is no doubt but that the river will reach a stage of forty-five feet or even more at this point before the rise is over. Yesterday I spent the afternoon with a boating party above this city and was surprised to find whole plantations submerged on this side of the river.

On one plantation we rowed through a cotton field of several hundred acres and on several occasions the ladies of the party leaning from the boats side, gathered flowers from the water in shallow places. All of this section cannot be cultivated this year for should the water subside now it would be three weeks before the fields could be entered and then it would be entirely too late to pitch a crop. In other parts of the country the planters have planted cotton three times and will have to plant again provided seed can be found. From what I learn through the columns of the Courier-Journal, Herald and the News I can but come to the conclusion that Kentucky is ahead of the southwest as far as crops are concerned this year. There will be but very little corn raised in this section and the outlook is extremely discouraging.

Notwithstanding the unfavorable conditions, business in all branches very good and factories of all kinds continue to seek locations here. The city which was made a city of the first-class two years ago, is growing in wealth and population rapidly, in fact houses cannot be built fast enough to accommodate those who are seeking homes here.

I notice that Hecky Coffey has rooted into the Columbia post office and the Lord only knows what else he will be trying to get into next. It occurs to me that he will probably enter the race for Congress against "Jockey" Yarberry and if he does I will take a vacation and come in and see the wool fly. The late freezes have no doubt ruined his crop of knoty apples on his "Brillary Domain" plantation and I would advise John Diddle to watch his orchard closely this year. I had hoped to get Hecky, Ed Atkins and Joe Burley down in this neck of woods to engage in the false face business but I presume they have formed a partnership with Mark Wilson and gone to raising tree chickens. However, I will meet them at the fair in August and discuss the matter with them.

They do say that my friend, Col. Will King, got scared at a couple of razor backs down in Tennessee several months ago and took to the trees swearing the bar's were after him and calling out he Louisville region to come to his assistance. It is strange what a peculiar effect the winter dews of the mountains have on some people and especially so with my friend King. I can only hope that Will will have a more pleasant trip the next time he invades the territory where the moon shines all the year around.

There are many things that I would like to speak of but my duties are so heavy that I really cannot find time to say more at this time. Should like very much to be in Columbia for a few days just now but will be denied that pleasure for several weeks

yet. With very kind regards to the News, its force and the people of Adair county, I am,

Sincerely J. McScott.

When your back aches it is almost invariably an indication that something is wrong with your kidneys. Weak, diseased kidneys frequently cause a break down of the entire system. BIG ELM.

It was with sorrow and sad feelings that I received the Adair County News that gave an account of the action of the Fiscal Court of Adair county, in not appropriating a sum sufficient to build some good roads. The people were disappointed, for they expected between this and the next muddy season the highways of Adair would be so improved that they could ride into Columbia on good graveled roads.

We have now arrived at one of the most important periods in the eventful life of C. S. Harris, it is that in which he contended so nobly for the cause of eternal improvement. When striving to usher into the minds of the people of his country, he has stood up before his countryman like an apostle, contending for internal improvements. The glory which he has won by his perseverance in the work and a large majority of the people hope he will freely succeed in establishing a good road system.

The glory that is to rest on his name for exertions in the cause. What are the specific results to which those exertions are to lead?

The computations are scarce within the capacity of a human intellect. The desert will bloom like the rose and new streams will start into being, as at the voice of omnipotence, bearing wealth and beauty upon their tide, ministering to the noble commerce of minds and our whole country as it were, be created anew, with greater powers and enlarged capacities.

From such sources is to spring a portion of the fame of the Editor, not simply inscribed upon an obelisk, that may crumble away into common earth, but graven upon his country's plains, cut through her solid mountains and notched in her everlasting rocks, his name will live a glory and benison forever.

A Narrow Escape.

G. W. Cloyd, a merchant, of Plun, Mo., had a narrow escape four years ago, when he ran a Jimson bird into his thumb. He says: "The doctor wanted to amputate it but I would not consent. I bought a box of Bucklen's Arnica Salve and that cured the dangerous wound." 25¢ at T. E. Paul, druggist.

CANE VALLEY.

Oh! this fine growing weather. Wheat is not reported so good as was expected.

Farmers have begun plowing corn, they report a pretty good stand in this section, better than usual.

There will not be as large a crease crop, of tobacco put out in this locality, as was expected. Owing to scarcity of plants.

The recent rains have started a good crop of weeds on some of our meadows, as well as elsewhere, but meadows are looking fine.

Owen Hardesty was here last Wednesday looking after stock. Mr. James Sublett delivered

Quite a number from this place attended Court Monday.

James Goff, traveling grocery-man was making our town last Thursday.

KNIFLEY.

Cold, backward weather still prevails in this section. The farmers are not done corn planting, and that which is through the ground is sickly looking. The prospect for a corn crop in this section is not encouraging. Wheat will be a short crop owing to the cold Spring. Hay will be a short crop again this year. A goodly crop of late apples and plums is all we expect in the way of fruit this year. Tobacco plants are scarce. There will not be over a half crop set in this section.

Several from this place attended the first days of Circuit Court.

The health of this country is generally good except bad colds.

Mr. Sanford Mann, of New Hope, Ky., visited A. C. Wheeler and family, one day last week.

Mr. J. C. Dunbar and wife left last Monday for Illinois, on a short visit to friends and relatives.

WITH OUR CORRESPONDENTS

Week's Happenings—News Important or Otherwise as Reported by Our Corps of Correspondents.

GRADYVILLE.

We had a good rain Friday. No new cases of measles in our town.

J. A. Diddle was at Greensburg the first of the week.

Several from this place attended the quarterly meeting at Breeding Saturday and Sunday.

Wheat is looking well in this section.

Willie Hill and James Wilmore were in Columbia last Friday.

Uncle Geo. Flowers spent several days in Columbia last week.

Mrs. C. Wilmore was on the sick list a day or so of last week.

Mr. John Parish, of Burksville, was with our stock men last Friday.

W. L. Grady is just in receipt of a letter from a stock firm of the Lone Star State, wanting a Peacock mare regardless of price.

Squire and Mrs. Kemp visited relatives in the community of Jamestown several days of last week.

Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Moss spent last Friday in Columbia visiting relatives.

Mr. Thomas Yates, of East Fork, spent a day or so in this city last week, visiting his daughter, Mrs. W. C. Hill.

Mrs. Kate Hughes, of Columbia, spent a few days last week with her daughter, Mrs. J. A. Diddle.

Mr. W. L. Fletcher is the first in this community to set tobacco plants this season. Quite a number of our farmers can transplant their entire crop the next season. We are glad to note that the failure in plants was not as bad as was anticipated a few weeks ago.

The trustees of our district should be congratulated on their selection of teachers for the free school at this place. We understand that Mrs. R. W. Shiley and daughter, of Milltown community, will be our teachers, and it goes without saying that Mrs. Shirley knows exactly what to do in the school room, and we are satisfied that her daughter only lacks the experience to be equal to her mother. We anticipate one of the best schools we have ever had here.

Our farmers are daily making complaints about their corn coming up this season. We take it that the moles and crows have been at work.

Mr. Geo. H. Nell, the well-known hotel man, of Columbia, has been with his family this week, and while here had a nice new tin roof put on his handsome dwelling by the Lowe Bros., of Columbia.

Rev. and Mrs. G. Y. Wilson entertained several of their Columbia friends several days of last week.

Mr. Henry Moss, of Greensburg, on his return home from the Cumberland river section called in to see us last Friday, while enroute for home.

Our new mill is doing first-class business, giving general satisfaction. The corn department that is under the management of Uncle John Moore, known as old hen, is giving perfect satisfaction. There is only one complaint that we have so far heard of and that is this the people that come to mill say they hardly get their horses tied up until their bag of corn is made into meal. Come and see the new mill and give us a trial and if we don't give you satisfaction we certainly will want to know the reason.

Mr. H. A. Walker the well known liveryman, of Columbia, was shaking hands with his many friends in our city last Saturday and Sunday.

Mr. Logan Hagan our efficient mill man, in company with Willie Hill visited the former relatives at Thompkinsville last Saturday and Sunday.

During the past three months Dr. L. C. Nell, L. C. Hindman and your reporter have had gotten out of their land fifty thousand and staves. The majority of these staves has been sold, to Rowe and Corbin, of Sparksburg, at a very good price, and we are glad to note that the white oak timber is not all exhausted to this part of Adair county yet.

Born, to the wife, of Thomas Dowel, on the 22nd, a son, (sure a Democrat) mother and child doing well.

Messrs. Will Lyons, Ed Atkinson, S. C. Neat and James Goff, all grocerymen made our town last week and it appeared like they were all glad to see us. Come again.

DeWitt's Carbonized Witch Hazel Salve does not merely heal on the surface; it penetrates the pores and promptly relieves pain, caused by boils, burns, cuts, scalds, cuts and skin diseases. It is especially good for piles. Beware of imitations. Sold by Page and Dooley.

GLENSFORK.

The pike movement goes steadily forward. J. N. Page, that noble enterprising citizen of Columbia has a subscription blank and is pushing the movement with that indomitable energy that has characterized his effort in many a successful public enterprise.

Every public spirited citizen of our county's metropolis will subscribe for stock. Her citizens have already responded with such jolly good will that their subscription already sum well up into the thousands. We now believe that Columbia will bear her full share of the cost of the enterprise. That done, its ultimate destiny will be placed in the hands of those who are to be most benefited by it; namely, the citizens along the line.

Fellow countrymen, can we afford to let it pass? Do you think it ever prudent to spend a nickel to make a dollar? If so you should note that we are confronted with just such a proposition at the present time. Every cent invested in the proposed highway will be turned back into our hands in payment for labor, provision and material during the time of its construction. All real estate will be increased in value from 50 to 500 per cent. That its stocks will prove to be a paying investment, there is not a shadow of doubt. Turnpike of a similar character are paying dividends ranging from 10 to 25 per cent., and there is no reason why this one should not do equally as well. Every laboring man and every team will be offered ready employment at good wages.

But the above are very insignificant when compared with the countless blessings that would be secured to us and our posterity in constructing a substantial artificial highway connecting our county seat with that great natural vein of commerce, the Cumberland, which with its cheap transportation will be worth more to us than any railroad could be.

WEED

As your reporter has recovered from measles, he will give you a few items from this thrifty little town.

Messrs. J. R. Yates, Cordie Wilson, Bill Moore and Master Arley Cole were confined to their rooms last week with measles.

Mrs. Genie Dennis and little son, of Gradyville, were visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Compton, part of last week.

Messrs. J. T. and Ed L. Hamilton, of Nell, passed through here Thursday with a nice drove of hogs which they were taking to the Louisville market.

We had a fine rain Friday.

Master Robert Moore is suffering from a wound inflicted with a knife on his leg just below the knee. The doctor thinks amputation will be necessary.

Mr. W. L. Hatcher one of our most enterprising farmers has recently purchased a tobacco plant settler, and has set about one half of his crop. Mr. Fletcher is a great advocate of making hay while the sun shines.

Mrs. Tibitha Stapp, who is in her 84th year, is not expected to live long.

Rev. F. B. Mills, of Albany, will preach Mrs. Kate Gowen's funeral at Marris chapel, the third Sunday in June.
